Directorate General of Training

Dated: 23.04.2019

NOTE

The Crafts Instructor Training Scheme (CITS) is implemented across the country to train the ITI/Diploma/ Graduate Engineering pass outs. On successful completion of CITS courses, National Craft Instructor Certificate (NCIC) is awarded. All States/UTs are promoted to employ NCIC holders as instructors in institutes implementing Craftsmen Training Scheme (CTS).

Various efforts are being made by this Directorate General to enhance the coverage and improve the quality of training imparted under CITS. In order to cover the existing pool of trainers not having NCIC certification, a scheme called Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) has been initiated wherein already employed trainers can appear in direct examination to obtain NCIC. The trades / courses being offered by various institutes (NSTI and NSTI(W)) under this Directorate has been also revised vide Order No. DGT-NSTI018/3/2019 O/o DIR(CFI) dated 16.04.2019 based on various parameters to improve the quality of training.

While monitoring the quality of training it has been observed that, some of the privately managed Institute for Training of Trainers (ITOTs) implementing CITS are not able to maintain quality training. Therefore, it is proposed to hold granting of affiliation to ^{such} fresh institutes under CITS for the time being. The proposal may be put up in the forthcoming meeting of sub-committee on Affiliation.
